Loon Lake OK held back another week

by JOSEPH SOULAK
GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Loon Lake area residents will have to wait until Tuesday, Sept. 18, to learn if they will have a new tax to pay. The Lake County Board will meet in adjourned session that day to consider creation of a Special Service Dist. for Loon Lake. This came about after the County Board put the question on the back burner of the Sept. 10 meeting and didn't get to it before adjourning.

Next Tuesday is the last day for assessing a property tax levy that will be collected in 1991. The Loon Lake tax is expected to yield about $50,000 annually, based on current property in the district boundaries.

Residents are divided on the need for the district and levy of the tax. Almost 40 of them showed up at a Sept. 10 County Board meeting where members were to vote on the issue. Residents carried signs or wore lapel cards urging a "yes" or "no" vote.

Residents appeared confused by the conflicting statements of Antioch Twp.

Supv. James Fields, other board members and a representative of the state's attorney's office. Before serious debate got underway it was decided to put the question at the end of the agenda.

Board members felt that waiting one week will give everyone a chance to become more familiar with the issue and form an opinion.

The issue began more than one year ago when members of the Loon Lakes Property Owners Assn. went to the county asking for the creation of a Special 8 Service Dist.

The creation of such a district would set a precedent in Lake County because it would be a first. The County Board gave a preliminary approval to the district's establishment last year.

Under the creation of the district, the county sets the boundaries, sets up a separate taxing body, collects the taxes and appoints residents to dispense the monies collected for lake cleanup.

The creation of the Special Service Dist. in the Loon Lake area could pave the way for the county to do the same in other lake areas in Lake County.

In March, when the county sought to establish the district, those opposed were given 60 days to turn in a petition in opposition containing the signatures of 51 percent of the property owners in the district and also 51 percent of the registered voters in the area or the district vote would go to the County Board.

Petitions were turned in on time and the county administrator's office, the state's attorney's office, the county clerk's office and the office of the register of deeds spent the next five months checking the petitions to see if they contained the proper number of legal signatures.

The first check for 51 percent of the registered voters in the area proved that

Rotary to hold annual dinner and auction Sept 29

The Antioch Rotary Club will hold its annual Porkchop Bar-be-que dinner and auction Saturday, Sept. 29 at St. Peters School. The club will start serving dinner at 5:30 p.m. and the auction will be at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $15, which include the dinner and a raffle ticket. The first prize of the raffle is a vacation for two to Las Vegas, including air fare, donated by Randy Miles, past-president of the club and this year's auction chairman. Miles is employed at the State Bank of Antioch.

Other prizes include a concrete bird bath, donated by Jack Thelen of Thelen's Sand and Gravel; a microwave/convection oven, donated by Sears Roebuck and Co.; a $100 savings bond, donated by Tim Osmond; $100 cash, donated by Dave Erickson; and a loon print, donated by Dan Dugenski. Winners need not be present.

Over 100 items will be auctioned by a professional caller. The items were donated by Antioch Rotarians as well as by many businesses in the Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst communities.

According to Erickson, secretary of the club, this is Rotary's major fundraiser. Proceeds will go to a variety of ongoing projects such as the youth scholarship fund, the Rotary foreign exchange program, food baskets, as well as being earmarked for donations to community needs.

Every year the club awards at least six local high school seniors $6,000 - $7,000 scholarships for their first year of college. "We feel strongly about supporting our students and we also feel we're investing in the community's future," Erickson said.

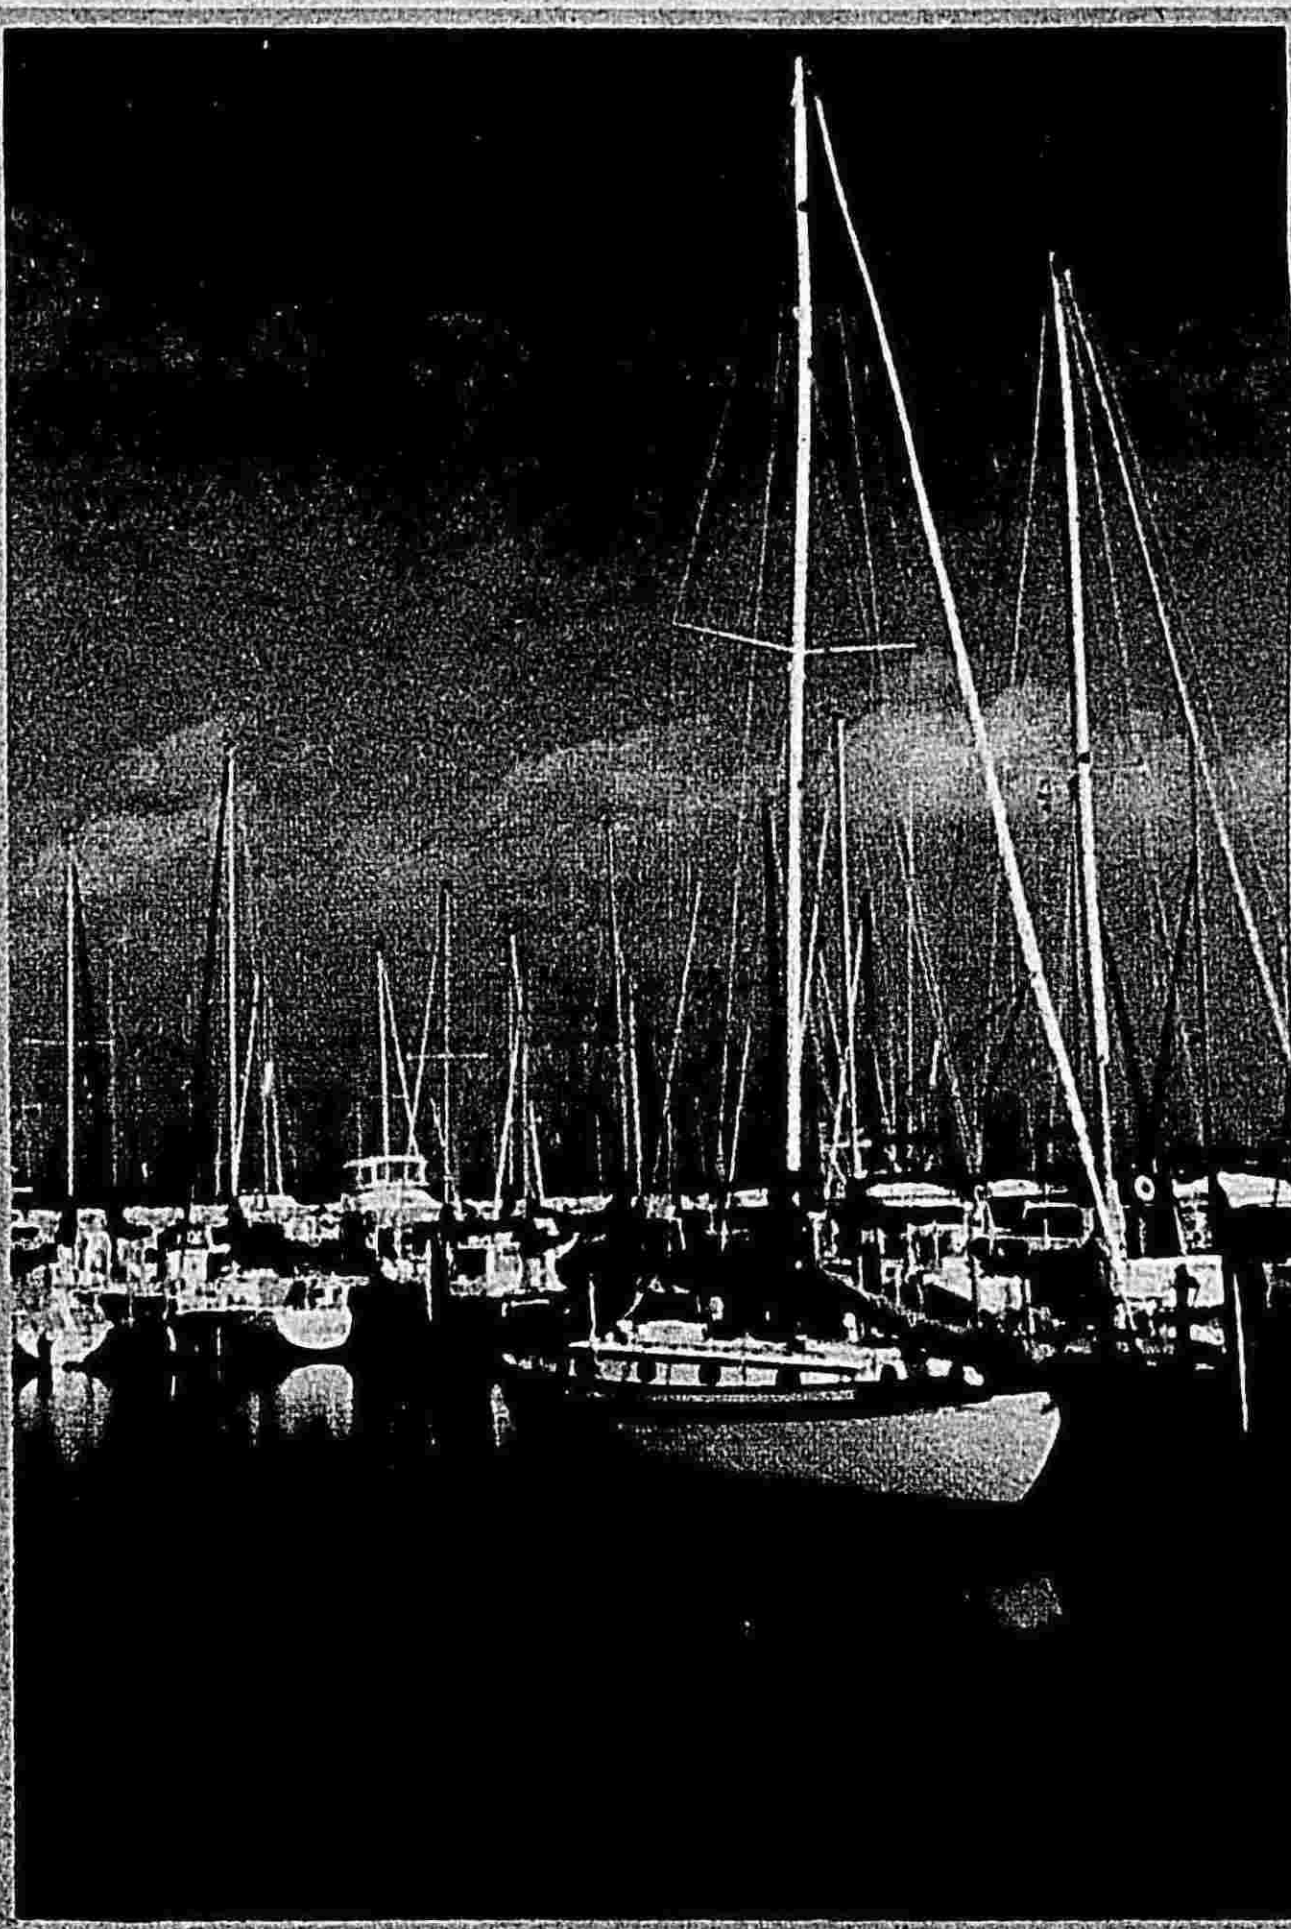

The Rotary foreign exchange program -- an international project -- brings students from a foreign country to Lake County as well as sends local students to faraway cultures. This year the club sent two students to Brazil for 11 months.

Rotary also donates to special projects in the community. The club gives to the Village of Antioch, the Antioch school board, the Allendale Assn. and the Lakes Region Historical Society, to name a few recipients. Last year it played a role in the renovation of the swimming pool and bath house at Williams Park.

Additionally, every Thanksgiving and Christmas, Rotary gives food baskets to needy families. Last year the club gave over 70 baskets.

"Our motto is 'service over self,'" Erickson said. He adds that Rotary is committed to raising and distributing funds locally to benefit the community.

The service club of business and professional men and women has been in Antioch since 1968. Rotary is an international organization with over one million members worldwide.

Lake County commences drug testing program

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Following a three-year study in Chicago, Lake County law enforcement officials are beginning a program to voluntarily drug test arrestees.

The effort is thanks to a grant from the Illinois Dept. of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (DASA). U.S. States Atty. for Northern Illinois Fred Foreman and Lake County States Atty. Mike Waller joined DASA and Illinois Treatment Alternatives for Special Clients (TASC, Inc.) in explaining the strategy at a press conference.

Foreman said the issue first was raised when law enforcement found drug testing of sailors at Great Lakes Naval Training Center in the 1970s. "We found a significant reduction in number of problems after drug testing," Foreman said.

The TASC focus includes treatment education and sufficient sanctions for those who do not pass the program. Approximately 200 men each quarter are expected to participate.

"When we started this project three years ago, we were stunned at the high rate of drug abuse among arrestees in Chicago," Melody Heaps, TASC executive director, said.

Approximately 71 percent of males tested positive for any drug, including marijuana, while 61 percent tested positive for any drug excluding marijuana and 50 percent tested positive for cocaine. Data showed 66 percent of those charged with an income-generating crime such as burglary, theft or robbery, tested positive for any drug. About 67 percent of violent crime arrestees tested positive for any drug.

TASC, which serves all 22 Illinois judicial districts, provides: assessment to determine the nature and extent of the referred individual's substance abuse problem; placement into appropriate facility to meet the individual's needs; and monitoring of client's progress for the courts or other referral source.

Fred Atkins, director of Illinois DASDA, described the effort as statewide which includes both rural and metropolitan counties. "This is a major portion of Gov. James Thompson's drug-free Illinois initiative," Atkins said.

A study of 4,500 adults showed increase in drug use by women.

"It helps us plan treatment programs and provide a data base," Atkins said.

The state funds will be used to expand the Drug Use Forecasting System (DUF) throughout the state.

Heaps said the program is strictly anonymous and confidential in nature. It is expected to have an 80 to 90 percent compliance rate.

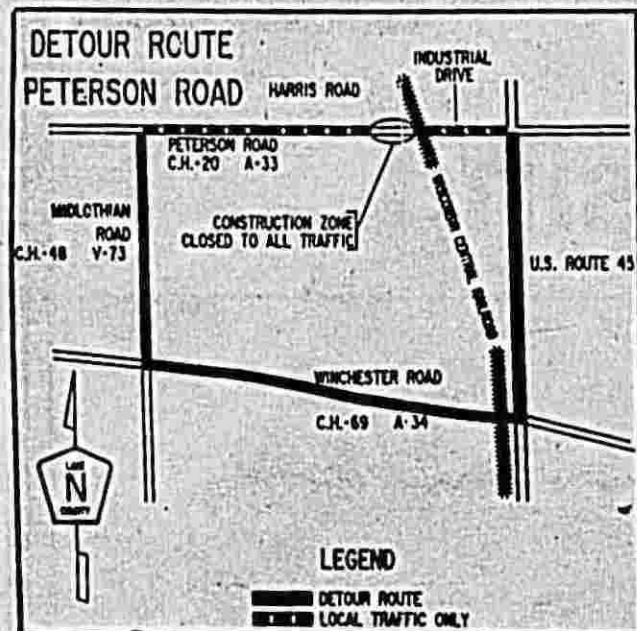

"This is the first step in developing a comprehensive program in the war on drugs," Waller said.

Waller said the effort could put Lake County in the forefront in obtaining future federal drug-fighting dollars. The effort has been a cooperative one with the state's attorney, public defender and court services departments.

TASC, Inc. serves the following populations: adult offenders, juvenile offenders, DUI offenders, general assistance recipients, junior high and high school students, SSI recipients whose disability is substance abuse, and HIV affected persons. Clients not eligible for TASC services include: offenders charged with violent crimes, offenders arrested for the manufacture or delivery of drugs, or individuals who lack readiness for treatment or who do not demonstrate a likelihood for rehabilitation.

TASC has served more than 44,000 persons since it was founded in 1976, 4,658 adult offenders in fiscal year 1990.

Road closed

The Lake County Div. of Transportation will close Peterson Rd. to through traffic from Midlothian Rd. to Rte. 45. Local traffic will be allowed from the Wisconsin Central Railroad to Rte. 45 and from Harris Rd. to Midlothian Rd. The detour and road closure will begin on Monday, Sept. 17, and will last approximately six weeks. This road closure and detour is necessary in order for the contractor to re-construct the concrete pavement section of Peterson Rd. from the Wisconsin Central Railroad to a point 0.2 mile east of Harris Rd. The detour route, as shown on the above map, will be Midlothian Rd. to Winchester Rd. to Rte. 45.

Explaining drug testing

Melody Heaps, executive director of Treatment Alternatives for Special Clients (TASC) outlines a drug testing policy which has begun in Lake County for arrestees at Lake County jail. Some 200 males are expected to be tested each quarter. Those eligible are then give a chance for treatment. From left: Lake County States Atty. Mike Waller, Fred Foreman, U.S. Atty. for Northern Illinois, Healy and William T. Atkins, director of Illinois Dept. of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse.

The Victory Memorial Chemical Dependency Program

708-360-HELP

Three months ago, the quiet calm of Joan and Allen Mitchell's life was shattered when they discovered that their daughter, Stephanie, had a drug problem.

The signs had been there for months: falling grades, absenteeism, moodiness, lack of respect, lying and defensiveness. Yet, the signs went unheeded. Joan and Allen thought it was just adolescence, typical teenage problems. Unfortunately, they were wrong. It was something far more serious.

Stephanie had a drug problem. The first person to recognize it was one of Stephanie's teachers, who called the Mitchells and made them aware of her concern. Fortunately, they acted quickly and sought professional help.

They turned to the specialists at the Adolescent Chemical Dependency Program at Victory Memorial Hospital. Here, they found a comprehensive program that not only helped Stephanie with her problem, but helped them understand the role that they would play in maintaining Stephanie's continued health.

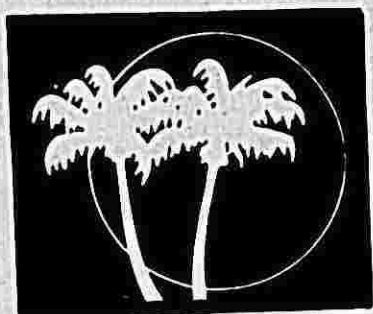

Today, Stephanie is her old self, back at school and doing well. The family is stronger, closer and able to weather almost anything.

Some stories do have happy endings, and many of them begin at Victory Memorial Hospital.

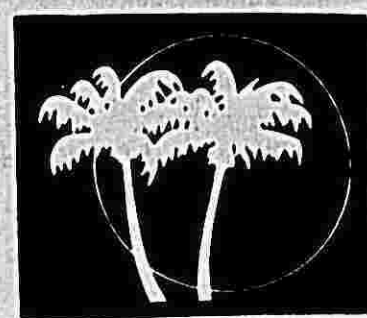

For complete information on our Chemical Dependency Program, or to confidentially discuss a problem confronting your family, call 708-360-HELP, anytime day or night.

Friends of the Parks urge referendum pass

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Village of Antioch, in an effort to establish a Park Dist. to replace the present Parks and Recreation Dept. will be running a referendum on that establishment on November's ballot.

The proposed park district will include all the area in Antioch Twp.

The village officials and many residents feel that Antioch has grown and will increase its growth in the near future enough to merit a park district so that area residents will have bigger and better park and recreation facilities.

Now the village and the township pay for the running of the parks and recreation department.

If the park district is established, a separate taxing body will levy a tax on the property taxes to fund that district.

Grant monies will also be available to the district.

According to Jennifer Tamburino, strong park district supporter, The Friends of the Parks, a community group organizing an effort to pass the referendum, the group is continuing its positive campaign.

Plans are being made regarding this effort, including the passing out of informational literature and other promotions.

Friends of the Parks t-shirts are now available in both children's and adults' sizes, for purchase at the parks department office in the village hall.

Anyone interested in becoming a "Friend" should contact Theresa Kovach at (708)395-2160 for more information.

Skidmore: 'The board is talking about future building expansion through using the high school and how to hold on until it's available.'

Skidmore and the board report that the total rise in the enrollment is six students, up from 1,854 to 1,860.

With enrollment expected to increase with the same steady pace as the school district is growing because of housing development in the area, Skidmore said the board has been discussing the possibility of using the present Antioch Community High School building if the high school is successful with its plans to build a new school.

Skidmore said the board discussed what steps could be taken until the high school is available and also other alternate solutions.

This student count includes 23 students attending SEDOL classes outside of the school district and also 17 SEDOL students from outside the district attending classes within Dist. 34.

Antioch Lower Grade School's enrollment is at 390; Oakland at 424; W. C. Petty at 427 and Antioch Upper grade School now has 613 students enrolled.

In signing contracts for food supplies for the new year, the board followed Skidmore's recommendation and awarded contracts to low bidders, Burlington Wholesale at $8,806, Fox River Foods at $968 —heard a school maintenance report from Larry Schumacher.

—the board received copies of teacher and parent surveys that will be distributed to draw input on future programs and facility development of the district.

Task Force to show evidence Sept. 19

The Antioch Drug and Alcohol Task Force is sponsoring a display of drugs and drug paraphernalia confiscated by the Antioch Police Dept. from 7 to 9 p.m., on Wednesday, Sept. 19, at the Antioch Senior Center on Holbek Dr.

Those wanting to know how to recognize drugs or the paraphernalia are invited to attend.

Guests will be Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson and Antioch Police Officer Ron Kay, who is working with the task force.

A discussion on the aftermath of drug and alcohol abuse on the roads will be held.

Refreshments will be served.

Marquee gets a fix

A little bravery and lack of fear of heights is involved in a task as easy as fixing a glass on the Antioch Theater's marquee. Theater is still running comparatively new movies with reasonable admission ticket prices.

Charge 2 with burglary

John Rosch, 42, and Donald J. Cunningham, 25, both of Antioch, have been arrested for the burglary of Action Liquors.

On Aug. 30, a witness at the Road Pilot Convenience Store, next to the liquor store at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83, heard noises at 4 a.m.

He called the police and Officer Ron Kay and Corp. Robert Lang of the Antioch Police Dept. spotted a car in the area driving with no lights.

They then arrested Rosch and Cunningham, charging them with breaking into the store by smashing a window. The case of wine they had allegedly stolen from the store was found in the car.

Rosch has been charged with driving with a revoked driver's license, burglary and criminal damage to property.

Cunningham has been charged with criminal damage to property and burglary.

Millburn church members laud rich history

The day may have been 48 years ago, but Maurquerite Messersmith remembers it well.

"My first view of Millburn was in the afternoon of Oct. 1, 1942. We had packed everything we thought we would need for two weeks when we left Cambridge, Neb. When we saw Millburn Congregational Church, we said, 'that is our church,'" Messersmith said.

Saturday night she recalled her and her husband, Lauren's first days at Millburn church, which is celebrating its 150th birthday. More than 100 people attended a banquet at Lauren Hall, named after the long-time pastor, Rev. Lauren Messersmith.

"I saw a beautiful farm area and when we met the people I knew I would enjoy it," she said.

"The love of the people," Messersmith said when asked of the strengths of one of Lake County's oldest churches.

Rev. Dr. Melvin Frank sent a letter of congratulations to the church for its sesquicentennial. He described the church as being close-knit and rural despite the urban sprawl which was coming westward because of the growth of the Chicago area. Frank was pastor during the church's centennial in 1940.

The Rev. Donald A. McPeck called his tenure in the 1970s and early 1980s as "one of transition for the church. Everybody knew everybody else," McPeck said.

On hand for the occasion Saturday was the church's oldest member, Rita Ray. Ray, 91, has spent all of her life in Lake County.

"It's the love of the people," Ray, a Wadsworth resident, said.

Metzler recalled the history of the church and the many points of its beginnings. The church traces its beginnings to the arrival of the Strang family, which had purchased 400 to 500 acres and named the area Strang's Corners. Robert Strang was the first postmaster in 1848.

Noting that schools and churches were often in the same locations in the 19th century, Metzler told church members that another beginning of the church was in a log cabin.

The church is celebrating the sesquicentennial as a year-around event. Justice Lawrence Inglis of the Illinois Appellate Court for the Second Dist. served as emcee at the dinner. Cochairmen for the events are Sandry and Larry Inglis. Members include: Gary and Lois Doolittle, Dorothy Fetinger, and Harding, Metzler and Norma Welch.

Upcoming events include: a fall luncheon on Oct. 4, and a road rally Oct. 20. November events include a chicken dinner Nov. 2, an all-church Thanksgiving dinner Nov. 11, an advent fair Dec. 2 and a Sunday School program Dec. 16.

Twins make occasion two times happier

Double or Nothing

If you have been a steady reader of "Hometown Goodies," I am sure you have noticed how much I love congratulating new parents. However, this particular congratulatory message literally has "The Lizard" jumping for joy. A former GLS/ACHS student, who was a classmate of my daughter, Karen, recently gave birth to Identical Twin Boys! Robin Rey/Cook and her husband, Tim, are overjoyed with the two little guys. Robin and Tim have picked out two perfect names for the two-perfect babies, Justin Michael Albert weighed in at 5 pounds, 12 ounces and Jeremy James Steven weighed in at 4 pounds, 9 ounces. The little tykes were born on Aug. 22 at Evanston Hospital. The Lizard is not the only one who was excited to hear this special "double header" news. Grandparents, Judi and Wayne Rey, Rick and Judy Patterson, and Ernie and Joan Cook, along with Uncle Jeff Rey and Aunt Julie Robinson were also overjoyed with this special event in their lives. The boys have an older sister, Alisha, and I am wondering what her little 20-month old thoughts are concerning two new baby brothers instead of one. Congratulations to all of you. In turn, your good fortune has given me the first opportunity to report a multiple birth in the history of "Hometown Goodies!"

Tangent

Let me go off on a tangent of thought concerning Robin's twin boys. It seems like only yesterday that this pretty young mother of three walked the halls of Grass Lake School. As parents watch their own children grow and mature and also their young friends, our minds often drift into thoughts of what the future holds for them. When you see them involved in their childhood pranks, etc. it seems they will remain young forever. But before long, the grade school graduation date approaches and they enter the expanded world of high school, etc. Often times we loose touch with these grade school companions of our children, only to be overjoyed when contact is re-established by hearing happy news concerning them. Robin, I am sure you realize how happy I and the rest of your Grass Lake friends felt upon hearing about the birth of your two little sons. As they, and little Alisha grow through the years, remember to keep us informed of their special accomplishments. Who would have thought, back then that twin boys were scheduled for your future. How special!

Gardening Partner

As I talk with friends, I often remark that "The Lizard" has mellowed through the years. I recently noticed a happening in the Schmehl household that made me realize, in some ways, "the old man" (my husband), has also mellowed. For reasons that are beyond my been deliberately cruel to them, he managed to convey the message, "You leave me alone and I'll do the same!" In essence he basically tolerates their presence but does not enjoy their company.

As he worked in our garden the other day, our new kitten, William, walked up and down the rows of vegetables with him, stopping at each plant my husband was harvesting.

Hometown Goodies

comprehension, my husband (like a lot of other men and possibly women) does not like cats. However, the poor soul picked the wrong mate, as marriage to me (the animal lover) has exposed him to many different types of animals over the years.

As the kids were growing up, we had the usual type of pets, dogs, hamsters, guinea pigs, rabbits, etc. and a few not so usual such as ducks, monkeys, and raccoons. Intermingled among this never ending menagerie of pets were several cats.

At the present time, five cats reside in the Schmehl household. Somehow hubby/dad made the adjustment to the cats from afar. While he has never

I quietly observed this comical scene from the garage. I waited for the moment he would shoo him away, but the moment didn't come. Actually it almost looked as if he was enjoying William's company.

After awhile I came out of the shadows remarking on the company he was keeping. In the past this would have prompted him to send our feline friend on its way. Instead he said "I don't know why he's following me" and proceeded with the harvesting - still accompanied by "William." The question is did the poor man mellow, or did he finally give up the futile battle of trying to avoid cats in this crazy animal orientated household?

Almost Made It

Poor Linda Boerman, she cannot win for loosing with the Lizard. She was so proud of herself for informing me about her

Sept. 9 wedding anniversary about 10 days before the event arrived. However, what Linda didn't know was the Lizard sent in two columns instead of one due to Labor Day weekend. So once again a belated special wish is in order for the Boermans. Linda and John celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary on Sept. 9 and I would like to wish them both a happy belated anniversary from Lizard and readers.

Almost Time

As I sit and write this tidbit, it concerns the celebration of a baby shower. However, by the time it goes to press, I hope the ending announces a birth. The following Growing Up Well volunteers of Grass Lake School combined efforts to host a baby shower for Sharon Jones, coordinator of the program at Grass Lake School - Marilyn Bowen, Marie Brausam, Jeff Clark, Ted Gavlin, Trudy Grob, Debbie Larsen, Pat Santiemmo, Liz Schmehl, Julianne Thain and Sue Westergaard. The shower was held on Tuesday, Aug. 28, at the school and the entire staff was invited.

First everyone enjoyed a delicious luncheon prepared by Sharon's volunteers, then Sharon opened the many beautiful and useful gifts given to her and "Baby Jones." The temperatures soared into the 90's that day, nevertheless everyone had a fun time visiting with each other and giving Sharon encouraging words about motherhood. A couple of surprise guests stopped in to wish her well,

Cathy Cratty of the Antioch High School staff and Michelle Adams of the health department. Well, my ending (the baby) did not enter the world at press time. You will have to tune in next week or whenever to find out the identity of "Baby Jones."

School Committees

Two little tidbits from Grass Lake School. Once again there will be a Teacher Assistant Program (TAP) at Grass Lake School. If you are interested in being a volunteer in the program, you may contact Pat Santiemmo at (708)395-6574 for further information, or you may call me at the above number and I will refer your call to Pat.

The 1990-91 yearbook committee is in the process of obtaining patron ads for the yearbook. If you are interested in being a patron in the book, you may contact Linda Boerman at (708)395-8059 for further patron information. Linda is the chairman of this year's committee and has a lot of special ideas for the yearbook. The committee would also like to welcome Cindy Marquart aboard and is looking forward to another fun year compiling the yearbook.

Special Message

I have a message for Norma Rubash of Antioch. Norma, did you ever hear the phrase "Curiosity killed the cat?" Well, you are the sweetest cat I have ever met and my advice to you is keep reading "Hometown Goodies" to find out the answer to your questions.

Top ACHS athlete

more than enough proper signatures were on the petitions.

But in the check for 51 percent of the property owners, the county reports that only 44 percent of the legal signatures were those of property owners, nullifying the petitions.

So when the matter went before the County Board earlier this week, after a report from the state's attorney's office that the petitions did not meet the legal criteria, the County Board was set to vote on an ordinance creating the Special Service Dist. and then another ordinance levying the tax for the district based on assessed valuation of the individual properties to total $50,000 per year.

Fields, who is also a Dist. 4 representative on the County Board, said he became involved three weeks ago when those opposed to the district came to his office.

"Some 56 percent of those living in that area don't want this district," he said at the Sept. 10 County Board meeting. "The right information wasn't given out. Some of the property owners live in California and Florida.

"Most of the people have given me a message: vote this down," Fields continued. "If this has to go to court, let the judge decide. It is a ridiculous state law that allows formation of such a district and tax. Let's not stick the people of Loon Lake with it." Fields said he has talked to State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) of the 62nd Dist. about changing this law.

The County Board's legal counsel said consideration, based on the initial petition, is mandatory. If not, the petitioners can sue. He said the board can vote either way on the issue, but it must vote.

Donald Stenger of Lake Forest, a Dist. 1 County Board member, said, "A special service area should benefit everyone in that area and those being taxed. If there is no benefit for some of these people, how can we tax them?"

Most of these property owners live in the Eagles Nest subdivision on the west side of Rte. 83.

SPECIALIZING IN OFFICE-BASED TREATMENT

Laser Beam Technique is the most sophisticated in-office treatment available today. It replaces the surgical scalpel with a concentrated beam of light that penetrates the troubled area. It's effective in treating problems such as warts, fungus and ingrown toenails, certain calluses and nerve tumors. Recovery is shorter which means a quicker return to normal activities including work.

Advanced Surgi-Care Technique is also an in-office procedure proven effective for treating bunions, hammertoes, corns, calluses, heel spurs and other related problems. This type of treatment minimizes discomfort and speeds recovery because pins and casts aren't necessary. Advanced Surgi-Care Technique is the practical alternative to relieving foot pain and avoiding a hospital stay.

Who will bend first?

Who will bend first? Will it be Lake Villa or Lake County? Both are wrapped up in a power struggle over future growth and sewer service.

Lake Villa wants the ability to hook up to the Fox Lake Sewer Treatment facility for future growth, and the county says it's ok with a couple of stipulations. That's where the power struggle begins.

The County Board voted to allow the hook-up, but in addition has only agreed to allow the village to grow by 300 percent in the future. One may be saying 300 percent is a lot of growth, and they're right. A lot of people are asking, "Does Lake Villa want to be another Schaumburg or Arlington Heights?"

However, the 300 percent stipulation is a bit confusing because Lake Villa believes the boundaries that the county has set on that growth are not acceptable.

The county says the village can put an additional 18,000 people on 1.29 square miles of land. "The village is not trying to acquire higher percentage of growth under the sewer contract, but a larger area in which to grow," said Mayor Joyce Frayer.

Another thing that's bugging Frayer is the "special treatment Lake Villa is getting from the county. Nobody else to my knowledge has stipulations like these on their future growth. What makes Lake Villa so special?"

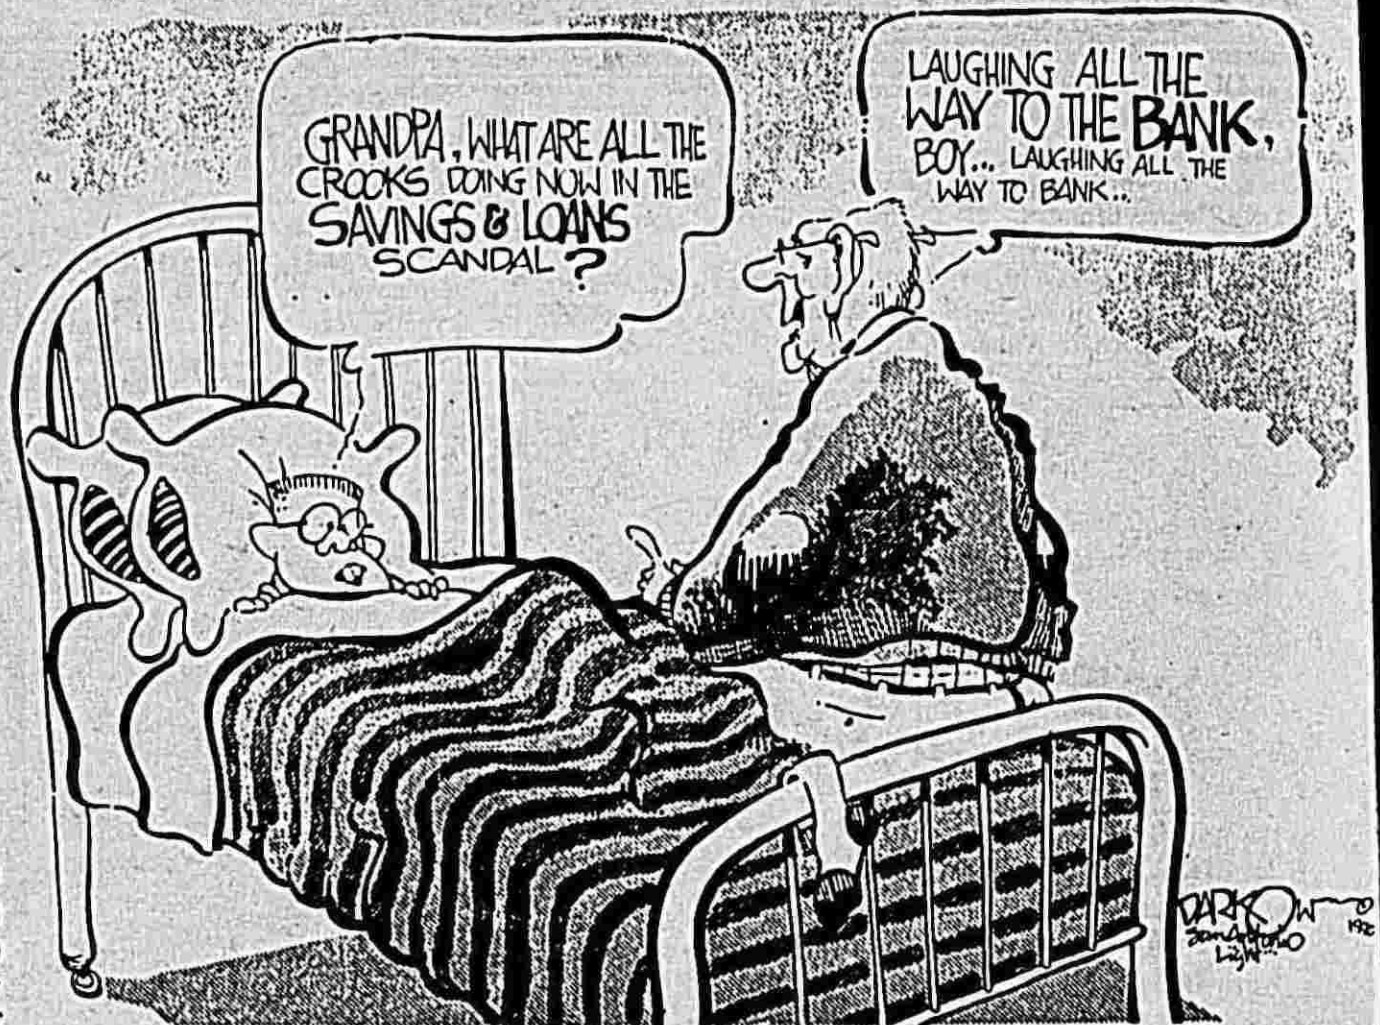

County Board Chairman Norm Geary feels the proposed agreement to Lake Villa is fair. He says the agreement is "silent on zoning and actual uses of property in the village," and it also gives Lake Villa ample opportunities to develop and grow.

Because of this current stalemate, Frayer is also calling for the county to give back to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency grant monies set aside for Lake Villa's hook-up to the Fox Lake facility.

Lake Villa officials should take the deal being offered to them by the county before developers lose interest in growing with the village. They are currently in jeopardy of losing Painted Lakes developer Al Bartok's interest partially because of the inability of the county and the village to come to terms on this matter.

Although there will probably be a winner and a loser in this power struggle, it shouldn't be viewed as winning and losing. It should be looked at as two opposites working together for the betterment of each, and the residents involved. Lake Villa should set an example of the working spirit which is so vital for the 1990s, and maybe the county will come through with a compromise of some sort to Lake Villa's satisfaction.

Viewpoint

Riders provide rare insights into commuting

by BILL SCHROEDER

Before Metra starts tinkering with schedules and service, rail commuter officials ought to confer with people who know something about commuting--the riders themselves.

Harold Alexander, 43, has been a rail commuter for 25 years. He feels that riders can provide worthwhile input when schedules are being altered like current Metra proposals to streamline service on the north line between Fox Lake and Chicago. We agree.

Alexander, who started commuting to Chicago on the NorthWestern at Arlington Heights when he resided in Rolling Meadows, now boards an early afternoon train in Round Lake bound for his job in the Loop as a central office technician for Illinois Bell. It's his job to keep phones working throughout the night while the rest of us are sleeping. He doesn't know what it means to work "regular" hours.

"I chose to live in Round Lake because I can walk to the station. Even with a monthly fare of $130.95, I figure I'm ahead the cost and upkeep of a second car," Alexander related. He made the point that a lot of commuters have the feeling that Metra doesn't always take into consideration how tightly the lives of commuters are entwined with their trains. Alexander also remarked that a lot of long-time commuters have been riding the trains longer than the crews.

Alexander said Metra appears to be overlooking the needs of "off hour" commuters like himself and those who work midnight shifts. He said all off-hour trains arrive in Chicago after the hour, which means the riders are either late for work or they are forced to take earlier trains that "steal" precious time from their families. Excellent observation.

Every long-time commuter can regale you with trials and tribulations of taking a train to work. One of Alexander's favorite tales is how inbound commuters sometimes find escalators running downward during rush hour. "How are we supposed to get upstairs? Especially when the stairway is blocked for repairs?" Alexander has memories, not exactly fond, of the days when the Regional Transportation Authority took over and reduced his monthly ticket to $55(hurray) only to zap it upward to $155(ouch) in less than a year. That repricing really threw family budgets into a tizzy, he recalled.

Alexander and his fellow commuters basically are looking for more consideration. Some consultation wouldn't hurt, either.

OTHER SIDE---Now that she's retired, Helen Anderson, former local government reporter for Lakeland Newspapers, is getting an opportunity to taste life "on the other side of the table." Anderson accepted appointment to the city council of Gravette, Ark., where she and her husband are enjoying retirement living. Helen must like her new role of making the news instead of reporting it because she's going to run for election in November.

AUSSIE BOUND---Brother Sean O'Keefe, who became one of the most popular teachers at Carmel High during his 13 years at the Mundelein school, will be packing his bags soon for a trip to Australia where he will start teaching at a Carmelite school about Jan. 1. Brother Sean, whose trademarks were an irrepressible smile, a bushy beard and a load of photographic equipment, will be honored at a reception Dec. 23.

LADIES DAY---Every day is ladies day in political circles these days, according to Mrs. George Ryan, whose husband is the Republican nominee for Illinois secretary of state. Mrs. Ryan said that wives are hitting the campaign trail just like their husbands. "It didn't used to be that way," mentioned Mrs. Ryan, who has supported her husband through the General Assembly, speakership of the House and now as lieutenant governor. "When our children were smaller, I stayed home. Now that they are grown, I'm out talking to voters," she exclaimed good naturedly.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY---A new set of golf clubs is giving pop new life on the links. Just when he was ready to take up welding sculpture or chess, gift clubs arrived. Now pop is hitting the little white ball "straighter and farther," just like the man promised. After more than 40 years of trying to master one of sports most addictive pastimes, I feel on the verge of becoming respectful on the golf course.

Letters To The Editor

Tollway another tax

Editor:

The Illinois Tollway Tax Authority is going to spend $20,000 to study the issues of quality of life and economic development of three new tollways in Northern Illinois.

How about quality of life while waiting in five mile back-ups to pay our toll tax? How about the $500 per year tax increase for those who have to use a tollway to get to work because the State of Illinois does not adequately maintain nor improve our roads? How about the people who have paid and paid and paid for the Tri-State and are going to pay some more for building new tollways?

Economic development? ... It's another way to tax via the Illinois Tollway Tax Authority.

Animal cruelty

Editor:

The abuse of helpless creatures to entertain people who enjoy seeing them tortured for sport is repugnant to those of us who consider ourselves civilized. Watching as swords are plunged into the back of a poor animal to weaken its muscles as it bellows in agony from the torment is barbaric. Cinch straps used to cause a normally peaceful animal to go into a frenzy at a rodeo should be outlawed. Those participating in pit bull dog fights should receive mandatory jail sentences.

There is no "class" to any sport that abuses animals; it demeans the human race and our society. In fact, how people treat animals is a reflection of how civilized that society really is. If, indeed, it is the mind of man that makes him superior to all the other animals, let him shoe it by rejecting events that perpetuate animal abuse in any form.

Animals used for food should be afforded a quick and certain death to avoid unnecessary suffering. Animals used in research should be employed only when there is no other means to test for desired results.

What village wants

Editor:

Cutting school costs

Lurking near or at the top of the list of taxpayer complaints with public education is the high cost of administrative salaries. Teacher salaries have been escalating rapidly, but pay for administrators always is a few notches higher, quite a few notches in the case of many districts. That's the rub with both the public and classroom teachers.

Critics complain that public education has become top-heavy with administration. Educators counter the argument of detractors with the viewpoint that running a school is more complicated than it used to be; that more services are mandated by the state. Hence, more support staff is needed for the classroom teacher. Maybe so.

Even with the grumbling about non-teacher costs in the operation of our schools, little is done about cutting administrative costs. When Stevenson High School board members adopted an administrative salary scale for the new year recently, only one dissenting voice was raised at the 8.7 percent average, which is more than raises being reported in the private sector. Rosealie Sendler described the "pool" increase totalling $572,523 as having too much disparity between the increases for other administrators who are in the same jobs as last year.

Administrative salaries at Wauconda Unit School have been a constant source of taxpayer irritation in recent years, but the only thing that has happened is that administrative salaries have increased.

The school district with a lean administrative staff is a rarity these days.

While public education administrative costs are ballooning, just the opposite is happening in private business. The battle cry in industry today is reduction in support staff costs. Modern management theory calls for decision making at the lowest possible level to enhance efficiency and productivity. Why can't similar efficiency and cost saving measures take place in our schools? To justify increased costs, a favorite saying of educators is that "we operate the biggest business in town." Really.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

LIKE BROTHER, LIKE SISTER—Some people never give up. Take Suzanne Herbes, Democratic precinct committeeman in Libertyville Twp.

Last spring she filed a complaint with the State Board of Elections. It claimed a political action committee called Curb Over Development (active in west and central Lake County) was playing dirty politics. This is because the anti-development group published a list of contributions to pro-development candidates in the spring primary from the Oak Brook-based Homebuilders Assn. of Greater Chicago and the Lake County Board of Realtors. The information was used as a mailing piece. For those who don't like money elections, it was a devastating piece.

The Board of Elections dismissed the complaint on Sept. 4 after several appeals by Herbes.

On Sept. 7 she filed a legal action with the Illinois Appellate Court for a review of that decision.

Who is Suzanne Herbes?

Her brother is Jack Martin, owner of the Libertyville Saddle Shop.

Martin and Patrick Connors, another Libertyville activist, are the founders and officers of Taxpayers for Good Government. This Libertyville political action committee is involved to its eyeballs in bankrolling candidates and promoting pro-development issues. In February, 1990 it got $13,000 from the homebuilders. This was used, mostly, for the controversial Libertyville GOP headquarters in last spring's elections. This, indirectly, led to the downfall of then-party Chairman Robert Neal.

In July, 1989 the homebuilders gave $15,000 to another Martin-Connors PAC called the Libertyville Township Taxpayers Party. This was used to defeat F.T. "Mike" Graham in his bid for re-election as Libertyville Twp. supervisor.

Who or what is the next target?

SHOWING THEIR COLORS

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess is boasting support from all quarters in the November election. For those who like the lass from Lincolnshire, there is a large red and white button. It proclaims the wearer to be a "Republican for Hess 1990."

WHERE'S HENRY?—Will the real Henry Marquard please stand up?

Marquard, 35, of Lindenhurst is running against Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) for the job of state representative in the 62nd Dist. on the Democratic ticket.

Marquard last week sent the media a photograph along with some campaign fodder aimed at shooting down his Republican rival. The picture looks more like the Henry Marquard of law school days.

One of his campaign confidants took one look at the photo and said: "Now, you'll have to have cosmetic surgery to make you look like your photo."

HOT MEETING—One of his occasional public forums will be held by Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) of

Henry Marquard

Linda Hess

the 10th Dist. in Libertyville on Saturday, Sept. 15. It will be at the Libertyville Twp. Hall, 359 Merrill Ct., just off Winchester Rd. across from Winchester House. Porter says he will discuss the deficit crisis. Word from those planning to attend is that Porter will be asked some pointed questions on this topic and the nation's savings and loan crisis. It could be an interesting meeting.

ABACUS POLITICS—Democratic Lake County Clerk Linda Hess said her Republican opponent doesn't know what he is talking about in dredging up campaign issues.

Republican Paul Chung, a Barrington dentist and native of Hong Kong, claims Hess works harder at registering Democrats than Republicans. Hess points out deputy voter registrars come from all walks of life and political persuasions, and she doesn't tell them who to sign up.

Chung also said he would recruit election judges at community colleges and 18-year-old high school students to relieve the annual one-day shortage. Hess said the judge problem will never be resolved because elections compete for a person's leisure time. Besides, it is a full day's work at minimal pay.

The Republican also said he would open a branch office in west Lake County.

Hess said this would be too costly and such business is better done by mail or keeping the Waukegan office open until 7:30 p.m. on Fridays.

Hess notes she has been in office eight years. Chung has never held a higher political office than park district commissioner in Barrington.

Letters

village which already has buildings with sewer.

The Village of Lake Villa is not trying to acquire a higher percentage of growth under the contract, but a larger area in which to grow. The village does not promote high density building. Our present village represents that. Look around Lake Villa, the new development is mostly one acre single family homes. Lake Villa's zoning ordinance is one of the most restrictive in Lake County. The ordinance requires open space and protects our natural resources. The Village of Lake Villa is not looking for a higher density but we are looking for the sewer boundaries to be enlarged.

Lake Villa helped Lake County meet its quota for low and moderate income housing, and we brought in multi-family units to our Village. This helped our present sewer plant reach capacity, now we are trying to institute the plan that the I.E.P.A. said will service our sewer from Lake County.

I would like to thank the seven County Board members who supported Lake Villa and voted against the contract that approved 18,000 people on 1.29 square miles of land.

Joyce F. Frayer, Mayor
Village of Lake Villa

SMPC plan powerful tool

Editor:

It is very important the citizens of Lake County realize how important the Storm Water Management Planning Committee (SMPC) is for our environment. For those that don't know SMPC is a committee made up of engineers, planners, County Board members from each district and mayors who, in the last two years have worked very hard to create an ordinance recently adopted by the Lake County Board of the control and management of rainfall runoff, flood control and water quality. This ordinance includes solving existing problems created by man and will serve to regulate future problems through technical data gathering, funding, management and proper development permitting.

The SMPC plan is long overdue and is the most important environmental ordinance for the protection of our wetlands, streams, lakes, rivers and flood and pollution control. The plan has already cost the taxpayers of Lake County a few million dollars and will cost multi-millions in much needed studies of our watersheds and for implementation.

This plan will be a very powerful public utility. Those with a lust for power and greed will strive for control.

It is important who the director and administrator is, but not as important as to whom he must answer or who has the regulatory and enforcement powers. I don't believe that this plan as yet has the necessary safeguards to keep it an environmental plan. We must insist on this.

Metra drops curtailed service

Far out commuters on the Metra north line to Fox Lake can breath a sigh of relief.

Lakeland Newspapers has learned that an efficiency task force will recommend to Metra directors at their September meeting that three early morning trains remain on their existing schedule with departure from Fox Lake with stops at Ingleside, Long Lake, Round Lake and Grayslake.

An announcement that the three early trains would be dead-headed to Libertyville as an economy move and an effort to cut travel time to Chicago kicked up a storm of protest from riders boarding at the far out points.

"Metra has heard what the riders are saying," declared Harry Thomas, community relations specialist.

Barring last minute changes, planned alterations for eight other trains will stand, according to Thomas.

Affected are two early departures from Deerfield, four from the Grayslake turnaround point for peak trains and two off-peak departures from Deerfield.

Metra regards the off-peak periods as mid-day and early afternoon to provide transportation for commuters who start late afternoon or early evening shifts.

Thomas cast doubt over whether a protest meeting urged by Fox Lake officials would materialize. "I doubt whether a public meeting would serve any purpose now. Of course, if the people want to hold a meeting on commuting, we will attend," Thomas stated.

Off-peak trains will depart hourly from Grayslake.

Sell to highest bidder

After getting special training in auctioneering and appraising, Bill Obenauf and partner Lee Neuroth have fun running successful Obenauf Auction Service serving northern Illinois and southeastern Wisconsin while also raising money for area charities.

Going once, going twice, SOLD by Obenauf Auctions

by STEPHANIE ENGLE
Lakeland Newspapers

Auctioning has always been a hobby of Bill Obenauf's and now he's turning it into a career.

Bill started his own auctioning service in 1984 and he couldn't be enjoying it more.

"Auctioning is habit-forming. We enjoy every auction we do because every one is different and interesting," he says.

Bill caught the auctioning fever five years ago, so he went to the Worldwide College of Auctioneering in Mason City, Iowa.

"After I finished the 10-day intensive training course, I came back, had cards made, advertised and started right in," he said.

Bill also just completed a 3-year program called the Certified Auctioneers Institute at Indiana University.

Bill's partner Lee Neuroth, who acts as clerk for the auction service, went to the International Appraisal School in Nashville, Tenn.

Bill and Lee are both members of the National Auctioneers Assn. and the Illinois State Auctioneers Assn. They also attend state training sessions twice a year.

Bill said they run approximately 50 auctions a year. Many of their auctions are for charities.

"Last year, we raised over $100,000 for local charities like Easter Seals, the Boy Scouts, Muscular Dystrophy, Ducks Unlimited, Save-A-Pet and various churches," Bill proudly said.

Most auctions are done on location but they may be run elsewhere.

"For instance, in May, we ran an auction for a woman whose house was so stuffed with collectables that we had to hold the auction at another location," Bill said.

That particular auction had so many things to sell that "we sold an item every 30 seconds for seven and a half hours straight for two days," Bill said.

Both Bill and Lee said that auction was one of their most exciting auctions because they ran across some pottery that turned out to be Terra Cotta pottery that had been made at Teco's in Crystal Lake and was worth thousands of dollars.

"But all the auctions we do are exciting. We keep learning at each one and have fun at the same time," Lee emphasizes.

Most of their business comes from referral. Bill says they've developed "quite a following. Grouches I guess."

Both Bill and Lee agree that auctioning is a viable service to the community that offers the best method of liquidating assets and estates. Their business cards state the slogans that an auction is the fastest, fairest way to settle an estate and it is the American, free enterprise system at work.

Although Bill holds a full-time job and auctions on the side, he says he plans to auction full time in the near future.

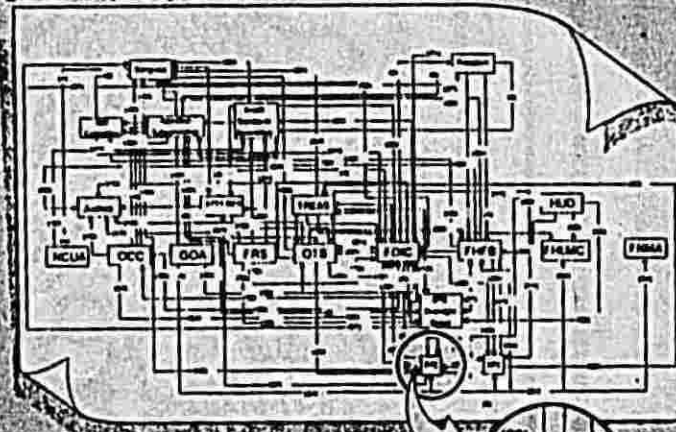

"Auctions are a good time," Bill stresses.

The Obenauf Auction Service serves northeast Illinois and southeast Wisconsin. Anyone interested in holding or attending an auction can call Bill Obenauf at (708) 587-8306 or Lee Neuroth at (708) 587-2095.

Cleaning up the S&L mess

The task of cleaning up the savings and loan mess is a mess in and of itself. The bailout's management structure boggles the mind. To wit:

Who's in charge? A government analyst drew this flow chart to show who's responsible for the cleanup. Analysts say one person needs to be in charge for a speedy bailout.

What's the RTC? Resolution Trust Corp. is the federal agency chiefly responsible for the bailout. Other agencies are responsible for problems related to the S&L crisis, such as the Justice Department, which prosecutes thrift officials for alleged wrongdoing.

The S&L scoreboard

The S&Ls

- 253 S&Ls taken over by government, still operating
- 211 sold or liquidated
- 225 under investigation for fraud
- 77 to be sold or liquidated by September

How S&Ls are classified

How the government groups the nation's 2,505 S&Ls still in private hands and their total assets:

The law

- 304 defendants have been named in 202 indictments
- 211 officials have been convicted; five acquitted
- 153 officials sentenced; 119 of them sent to prison

The cost

- Losses from insolvent S&Ls: $155 billion
- Interest payments on bond payments: $105 billion
- Interest on short-term working capital: $28 billion
- Administrative, other costs: $37 billion

Hard work, dedication: keys for Vernon builder

Hard work and dedication are prerequisites to any successful business. In this day and age when business failures are commonplace, it's great to know that one man's hard work and dedication to his craft has truly made him one of the most respected businessmen in Lake County.

Orren Pickell, of Orren Pickell Builders, is just such a man. Renown for building custom homes on the North Shore and in Lake County for over seven years, Pickell has proven that long hours and commitment can bring a bounty of successes.

Pickell was born in Wisconsin and was raised in the western suburb of Elmhurst, where he attended York High School. Piqued by an interest in building, he attended Bradley Univ., and studied construction engineering and architecture.

"I put myself through school doing what I love," says Pickell. "I worked in every area of building, and burned the midnight oil to maintain my studies."

Pickell formed his first business while in college and became a painting contractor.

"My experience in college and my first business really made an impact on what I do today," says Pickell.

Pickell continued painting and began to renovate houses after he finished college. In 1976, he further entrenched himself in the building industry when he bought a homesite and built his first home.

Pickell personally financed his company and for many years performed most of the labor intensive chores, from grading, to foundations, to doing the brick and tile work. He worked relentlessly for nearly four years. By day, you'd find Pickell on the job site; and by night, he would design and draw house plans.

His wife, Tina, has been by his side every step of the way. As wife, business partner, and mother of his children, Pickell's wife understands all too well, what makes her husband tick.

"He (Orren) wants everyone to love the homebuilding process as much as he does," says Tina. "Building homes has always been an intensely creative and personal love affair for Orren."

In spite of the intensity and pace at which Pickell first worked, he made a commitment to himself to turn another dream into a reality. Pickell felt secure enough in his career to take a six-month sabbatical from building in 1979. At that time, he left with his wife to brave life as a commercial fisherman in Alaska.

"We skipped on a 50-foot halibut boat," says Pickell. "A lot of people say we were crazy for doing this, but we just loved it."

Again, showing the Pickell prowess towards work, Pickell and his wife worked from sun-up to well past sun-down, catching halibut to bring to market. Pickell looks back on this period of his life with fond memories and fascinating stories.

"It's easy to do when you have no children, and have dreams to fuel your life," says Pickell.

"What was true of the halibut boat, is still true today," says Pickell. "Quality starts with the captain, we have a group of outstanding individuals (at Orren Pickell Builders), who all work together, each contributing their skills to build quality homes."

To be sure, Pickell's homes are as distinctive as the man himself. From the traditional to the contemporary, and as different as an adobe home to a lodge home with post and beam construction, each Orren Pickell home is one-of-a-kind, and bears his signature for quality.

A recent award recipient of the 1990 Lake County Tour of Homes, sponsored by the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County, Pickell garnered awards for his Lot 23-Camelot residence in Libertyville, and his Lot 2-Abington Cambs residence in Lake Forest.

These awards were for Best Interior and Best Exterior Architecture, Best Kitchen, and Best Master Suite including Bath for custom homes over $400,000. He also received a Special Recognition Award for Best Exterior Architecture for Lot 2-Abington Cambs, this award was the only special recognition award given. Pickell scored 124 out of a possible 125 points.

"It's great to know my work is appreciated by my peers," says Pickell. It's a real feather in the company's cap, and it gives my entire crew great sense of pride."

Orren Pickell Builders is located at One Hawthorne Pl., 175 E. Hawthorne Pkwy., in Vernon Hills, and currently builds in excess of $12 million in custom designed homes in Lake County. In spite of economic projections and trends, Orren Pickell has increased his inventory and production for the next 12 months.

Film Review

We have another sleeper that has proved more popular with the people that go to the movies than predicted by the critics in "Pump Up the Volume."

The story about an Arizona student figuring out a way to cut into the public airways and do his way-out broadcasting from his bedroom lays the background for a fairly exciting flick.

The character of the student, played by Christian Slater, is an interesting one with Slater turning in a fine performance.

Again we have the premise of youth's verbal fight for freedom against the system and tradition.

This plot has seen better days. Maybe its lack of sizzle comes from overplay and its lack of importance relating to today's youth.

But the film is well worth seeing, even at first run prices. We'll give it four out of five stars based on Slater's performance.

Video

The video scene is a fluctuating one. One week one visits their favorite video rental spa and they have a hard time choosing from the new releases.

Then comes the dry spell when it seems you've seen everything worthwhile. This usually takes place during a dead week when there's nothing worth watching on tv.

With the new chain video parlors making it possible to almost always get a hold of a new release because they have so many copies, there is some good viewing awaiting.

Jamie Lee Curtis' action packed "Blue Steel" is one of the better cops and robbers flicks out on tape.

"The Family Business" with the top-notch cast of Sean Connery, Dustin Hoffman and Mathew Broderick, though the plot is weak, is worth rental prices just to see such fine actors cavort.

For pure enjoyment, reserve "Gross Anatomy" if you have too. Mathew Modine leads a fine cast through medical school and all its foibles.

Kevin Costner's "Revenge," the movie that spends most of its time making him look sexier than ever, is out on tape. It's worth rental prices although somewhat of a plodder.

One of our favorites, Richard Gere, has his "comeback" film out on video, "Internal Affairs." This was a dynamite cop story on the big screen. Make sure and see it if you missed it downtown.

"Enemies, a Love Story," and Angelica Houston's Academy Award nomination performance, are now available for home viewing. The story is a strange, slow moving one, involving a Jewish immigrant's first and second wives and also his mistress. Not meat for the average viewer, but the sterling performances are worth video prices.

The very violent and very exciting "Hard to Kill" is a hard one get at the video stores, but anyone who is a fan of this type of movie will find the wait worth it, even though the big screen did this flick more justice.

Although Tom Cruise's "Born on the Fourth of July" has been on tape for awhile, this is another five starer that shouldn't be missed. In fact, if you saw it at the theater, you'll see a lot you missed when you rent the video.

'Pacific'

The haunting music of Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein returns to the stage of the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre in the classic musical, "South Pacific." Latest production is set to play through November. Kathy Santen, as Ensign Nellie Forbusch, sings songs like "Honeybun" and "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair" in WWII romance between a nurse and a French planter.

PM&L starts with musical 'Kismet'

PM&L opens its 30th Season with the classy and classic Arabian Nights musical "Kismet" at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch. Show dates are Sept. 28, 29 and Oct. 5, 6, 12 and 13 at 8 p.m.; also Sept. 30, Oct. 7, and 14 at 2:30 p.m.

Bride brings her wedding to work

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Last weekend, Janice McCluskey, 39, of Lincolnshire, carried her job as activities director at the Riverside Foundation, a home for the mentally retarded in Lincolnshire, through to her wedding to Donald Payne, 39, of Wildwood.

Janice had at first planned a traditional church wedding, but when she found out that most of the clients at the foundation who were a main focus of her life, were anxious to attend the ceremony and celebration, she decided to set up the most exciting activity held at Riverside in a long time, her wedding and reception.

The 99 residents of Riverside, who are taught job skills and also how to take care of themselves, spent the week before fashioning wedding decorations and planning what they would wear to the most exciting event they had ever attended.

When Sunday arrived, the residents decorated the outside area where the wedding was to take place and many were ready and dressed to attend their very first wedding hours ahead of the time that had been set for the afternoon ceremony to start.

Some cried during the ceremony, most enjoyed the dining and dancing at the reception that followed.

Janice's new husband is a supervisor for U. S. Clip in Mundelein.

The newlyweds met through the bride's nephew and to their surprise, they found that they had something in common right off the bat when Janice, who works with the mentally retarded, found out that Donald had a mentally retarded son, Don, Jr.

The Riverside Foundation is a non-profit social services agency serving the mentally retarded as a 24-hour residential facility and in teaching job and home living skills.

Wedding at Riverside

Janice McCluskey and Donald Payne are married in garden at Riverside Foundation in Lincolnshire where she is activities director. The wedding party included Jan Madajczyk, Chicago; Donna, Lauren and Kristin Frowfelter, all of Glenview; Angela and Jennifer Larson, Lindenhurst; Daniel Frowfelter, Donald Payne, Jr., Orland Park, Michael Payne, Ingleside and Stephen and Jeffrey Payne, Wildwood, Payne's three brothers.

Players to open 'The Nerd'

Almost anyone would be grateful to have his life saved, but, depending on who does the saving, the gratefulness can wear pretty thin. Take, for instance, if the savior is an absolute Nerd and if this Nerd turns the saved life into a complete shambles.

That's the situation in "The Nerd," a comedy in two acts, begin presented by the Waukegan Community Players Sept. 27, 28 and 29 at 8 p.m. and Sept. 30 at 3 p.m. in the Wixon Theatre of Waukegan East High School, Jackson and Washington Sts. in Waukegan

"The Nerd," which was London's biggest grossing play of the 1984-85 season, opened in New York in March 1987, was written by Larry Shue and is being directed for WCP by veteran director Mickey Eckmann Mandel.

Tickets are $6 for adults and $5 for students and seniors and are available at the door.

Kottke at Opera House

The legendary guitarist Leo Kottke will present two concerts at the Woodstock Opera House on Friday, Sept. 21 and Saturday, Sept. 22. Each show will begin at 8 p.m.

Kottke demonstrates a growing harmonic and rhythmic sophistication on "My Father's Face," and for the first time in eight years, his voice. No male soprano, Kottke tackles such diverse issues as fidelity and car repair with grace.

Tickets for these concerts are priced at $14 each and are on sale at the Woodstock opera House box office. For information, call (815)338-5300.

What's New In Las Vegas?

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

A lot has happened during the last year in the gambling city in the desert. New "Mega" hotels have opened while some old names have closed their doors.

The winner of the most spectacular of the new resorts has to be the Mirage. No need to go to Hawaii to see an active volcano. The Mirage has one that erupts fire and smoke 100 ft. into the air! Walk into the lobby and you'll find a tropical rain forest surrounded by waterfalls. The pool at the Mirage is actually a series of interconnected lagoons with two palm-tree lined islands where waterfalls cascade into deep grottos.

Future plans for the Mirage include a 100 ft. mountain with a water slide and "cliff diving" as well as adding a 1.6 million gallon tank to host six dolphins. Look for this about mid-October.

The people that gave you "Circus Circus" have opened another theme hotel called the "Excalibur." If you ever wanted to stay in a medieval castle complete with valiant knights and fair maidens, this is the place for you. You can meet King Arthur and Sir Lancelot in this, the largest resort in the world!

In true Circus Circus fashion, you won't pay a King's ransom for a room. About $35 per room, even less during the week, is all you should expect to pay.

The famous Landmark hotel closed its doors with little notice. At the present time there are no buyers.

As if we needed another Hard Rock Cafe, you can find one in Vegas at Harmon and Paradise Road. Stop there and get a t-shirt for your kid.

Anybody, other than myself, remember Allen & Rossi? Well, they're back together again and you can catch their act at Vegas World for only $6.00.

Though warm weather is still with us, it won't be long before the chill autumn days will call for food that makes us feel warm and cozy.

When the need for a quick meal arises, these trendy accompaniments for the common potato are a welcome scenario.

One can feel good about these cool-weather potato meals or snacks because the wholesome tuber in combination with the dairy products used to top them are a nutritional gold mine. Not only is the potato low in calories (about 125 for a medium potato), but it is a good source of vitamins B and C, potassium, phosphorus and iron.

Bacon buttermilk topping

- 1/2 cup raw broccoli flowerettes
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/3 cup buttermilk
- 3 Tbls. chopped red pepper
- 2 Tbls. chopped green onion
- 2 slices bacon, cooked, drained, crumbled
- 1/8 tsp. pepper

Combine all ingredients. Spoon onto hot baked potato. (Store covered, in refrigerator up to 5 days.)

Yields two cups.

Mexican cheese topping

- 2/3 cup garbanzo beans, rinsed and drained
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/2 cup prepared mild or hot salsa
- 1/2 cup (2 ozs.) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1/8 tsp. garlic powder

Combine all ingredients. Spoon onto hot baked potato.

Yield two cups.

Tomato blue cheese topper

- 1 cup cottage cheese
- 1/2 cup lowfat plain yogurt
- 1/2 cup chili sauce
- 1/2 cup (2 ozs.) crumbled blue cheese
- 1/3 cup chopped sun dried tomatoes
- 3 Tbl. minced green pepper
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/8 tsp. garlic powder

Beat cottage cheese in small mixer bowl on high speed of mixer until almost smooth, about 5 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients until well combined. Spoon onto hot baked potato.

Appleseed Grove to fete hero

The 216th birthday of Johnny Appleseed, a real life American folk hero who traveled from the East Coast as far as Illinois, giving away apple seeds and seedlings, will be celebrated in Long Grove on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Visitors to Apple Haus Square in the historic village can see the only antique working cider press in the Chicago area that is open go viewing, and meet Johnny Appleseed.

The Apple Haus, located in Apple Haus Square, known for its apple treats, will celebrate Johnny Appleseed's birthday with demonstrations of the cider press at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Johnny Appleseed will appear from noon to 1 p.m. that day with an apple-themed magic and juggling performance.

The cider press is one of the top attractions in Long Grove. Visitors to The Apple Haus look down from a balcony as apples are poured from 800-pound boxes, washed and then pressed into cider.

Apple-pineapple surprise

The surprise is this delicious side dish tastes like caramel apples!

6 apples peeled, cored and cut up
1 18 oz. can pineapple (crush or chunk) drain and save pineapple juice

In a pan heat:

1 egg
pineapple juice
1 Tbl. flour
1/2 cup brown sugar

Heat until thick, and set aside to cool.

Stir in apple and pineapple chunks. Add to it:

3/4 cup peanuts
8 oz. whipped cream

Stir well, chill and serve, enjoy!

Apple slices

Crust

2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt
2/3 cup lard
2 egg yolks
1 Tbl. lemon juice
1/4 cup water

Sift together flour and salt, cut in lard, then add 2 egg yolks and lemon juice. Add water, 1 tablespoon at a time while working dough. Divide dough in half. Roll into two rectangles and place 1/2 of crust in bottom of floured 9x13 inch pan.

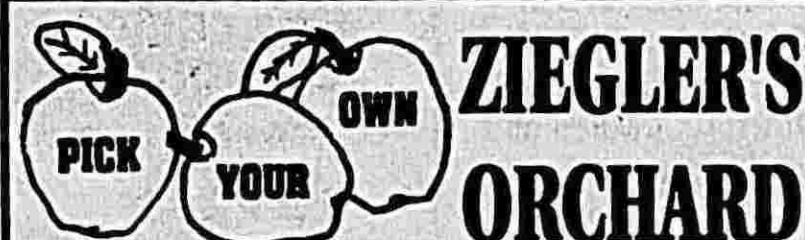

Filling

10 apples (Jonathan or Macintosh) peeled, cored and sliced
1 cup of sugar

2 Tbls. flour
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
butter

Spread apples in bottom of pan and sprinkle with flour, cinnamon and sugar mixture. Dot with butter and top with the other half of dough. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. While apples slices are baking mix 2 tablespoons of melted butter with 1 cup of powdered sugar and spread on top crust while still warm.

Pre-winter check-up is good for your car

A few hours and dollars spent in the fall will prove worthwhile when winter weather puts extra demands on your car's engine and other components.

If your battery is three years old or more, have it checked. Most service stations can do a battery check in about 15 minutes. Winter is when most starting problems occur and virtually all "no starts" are linked to a weak battery or faulty battery connections.

If you can't remember the last time you replaced your windshield wiper blades, it's probably time. Wiper fluid should also be replenished.

It's a good idea to change your oil with the change of the seasons or, at a minimum, every 7,500 miles. The oil filter should also be replaced at each oil change and the fuel filter at least once a year. Check your owner's manual for the winter oil weight recommended by the manufacturer.

Along with these tips you may want to stock your trunk with these winter driving necessities:

Jumper cables, an ice scraper, a container of extra windshield washer fluid, lock-thaw solution in spray cans or squeeze bottles to thaw door locks, a bag of sand or inexpensive bag of kitty-litter, for traction on icy roads, and a small shovel, in case you have to dig your way out of a drift.

Modern automobile industry has roots in 1890's

The automotive age of the 20th century has its roots in the fading years of the 19th. Developments of the 1890's, in fact, were crucial to the growth of the modern automotive industry which was fueled by the discovery of cheap oil in Texas in 1901.

The birth of the American automobile industry dates from 1896, when the Duryea brothers built 13 gasoline-powered vehicles from the same set of plans, according to James A. Wren, automotive historian and manager of the Patent Library for the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn. (MVMA).

"But the 1890s saw so many other milestones that we can consider that whole decade as the dawn of the modern automobile industry," says Wren.

Several firsts belong to Charles E. and J. Frank Duryea, of Springfield, Mass. In 1893, they built the first successful American gasoline-powered motor vehicle, featuring a unique spray carburetor and electric ignition. In 1895, a Duryea vehicle beat a Mueller-Benz in Chicago to win the first U.S. auto race. And a year later they introduced the first U.S. vehicles to Europe when the two Duryeas took part in the Emancipation Day run from London to Brighton.

Many early breakthroughs in automotive technology came from Europe, Wren notes. But the infant industry matured quickly on this side of the Atlantic because of America's need for a simple, inexpensive vehicle to link its vast, unpaved countryside. And the U.S. had a national character that encouraged tinkers and entrepreneurs.

"In Europe, you had craftsmen hand-building large expensive vehicles for the nobility," says Wren. "But America was a nation of tinkers. Farmers who lived from town had to be able to fix their own machinery. It was still the horse-and-buggy era but there were hundreds of mechanics tinkering in barns and workshops, sensing a market for a motorized vehicle to lighten and speed the endless work of moving goods and transporting people. The Europeans of the time didn't think that way."

In 1895, the U.S. Patent Office granted George B. Selden's 1879 application to patent a "road machine" powered by a Brayton two-cycle internal combustion engine. That same year more than 500 motor vehicle patent applications were filed. Carriage builders, bicycle makers and barnyard mechanics were building an estimated 300 different vehicles. That number would reach 8,000 by the turn of the century, when 40 manufacturers participating in the nation's first auto show would display 300 vehicles to 48,000 visitors.

Despite such interest, many Americans were content to view the new century over the backs of a horse. That's why automobile clubs established in the '90s would play a pivotal role, lobbying for better roads and against restrictive laws reflecting anti-automobile sentiments.

Motorists of the '90s had their choice from vehicles powered by steam, electricity of internal combustion engines. Electrics were heavy short-range vehicles popular mostly with city drivers. Steamers always needed "a light and a drink," shook apart on country roads and waged an unending battle with public fears that they might explode.

In search of an inexpensive fuel, internal combustion vehicles of the '90s burned naphtha, alcohol, stove gas and other fuels, with the same result: nearly universal scorn as noisy, dirty, smell contraptions that frightened horses to boot. In response, Charles Duryea pioneered more "firsts" the automobile muffler and fuel additives that diminished the smell.

Such changes helped make gasoline the fuel of choice after Spindletop, the fabulous gusher near Beaumont, Texas, dropped the price of crude petroleum below five cents a barrel in January, 1901.

By the end of the year R.E. Olds would subcontract parts from suppliers and build the first mass-produced U.S. vehicles, 425 curved-dash Oldsmobile roadsters, that sold at the comparatively modest price of $650. In a few more years Henry Leland would introduce standardized parts to Cadillac production and Henry Ford would pioneer the moving assembly lines for his Model T.

These 20th century technologies would put the nation, then the world, on wheels, with products developed and refined in the fading years of the 19th century.

Facts And Figures

The Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn. states the following facts and figures:

Male drivers outnumber female motorists by more than 6 million nationwide in 1988. Only three states, Kansas, Iowa and Maine, showed female drivers outnumbering their male counterparts.

Nearly a third of all motor vehicle trips are related to earning a living, with the average drive between home and work adding 8.8 miles on the car's odometer.

Now that Americans were making them, they needed a place to sell them. Percy Owen saw that need and opened the first automobile salesroom in New York at 120 Broadway, on Nov. 1, 1899. The firm sold Winton cars.

LARAMIE

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 124' x 48'
LIVING: 2310 square feet
GARAGE: 912 square feet
COVERAGE: 3222 square feet

208-20 LARAMIE
Landmark Designs

Broad panoramic views are a given with the Laramie. This informal ranch style home, with more window than wall space along the mid level of its back side, makes it easy to appreciate every nuance of the changing seasons. Building on country acreage will, of course, offer the best possible vistas.

At the apex of this flying wing-shaped home, spreading out opposite the vaulted double entryway, is a spacious sunken living room, flooded with natural light and crowned by a masonry fireplace. Non-drinking families could use the wet bar for pop and ice cream storage.

Low planters are all that separate the living room from the broad entryway and dining room, and only waist-high counters divide the dining room from the large chef's kitchen. This openness makes for easy conversation and movement, giving a relaxed informal feel to the family living area. A row of stools placed on either the kitchen or dining room side of the kitchen counter turns it into a snack bar and further unifies the rooms.

Two or three chefs can combine talents in this large kitchen with its cutting block island and pantry, without tripping over each other. The den could just as easily be a private office, studio, or family computer room and study, not to mention a guest room or another bedroom for a growing family.

The large garage accommodates three small cars, a car and a truck, or even a small boat. Tool storage is neatly contained in the shop area, and a utility room is equally convenient to the kitchen and bedrooms.

Double vanities provide plenty of space to spread out in the master bath and the bathroom serving the other two bedrooms. High gabled windows brighten both the master bath and the full bath at the opposite end of the house. The master suite has an extra closet for storage space, in addition to the large walk-in closet.

For a study plan of the LARAMIE (208-20), send $5 to Landmark Designs, P. O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Warhawk connection helps Vikes win fourth

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

One could call them the North Chicago connection.

They both play defense, and they are both veteran football players. And when opposing quarterbacks facing the Lake County Vikings defense slip and forget about one, here comes the other.

Such was the case Sunday when the Vikings' defense shut down Milwaukee 16-7 in a win which gained revenge for two losses last year. The win was also the fourth straight to start the season for the semi-pro team.

"The credit has to go to everyone," Dwayne Keener, a 6-2 linebacker, said.

A graduate of Knoxville College in Tennessee, Keener played three years there as well as wrestled.

At the other end of the defense, the Vikes opponents must try and cope with the presence of Michael Wade in the Lake County secondary. Wade, who played in the NFL, snared three passes of Milwaukee quarterback Kevin Grossochme, took away a sure TD on one catch, stopped a drive on another and ended the contest with an interception which put an exclamation point on the day's efforts.

Wade, a 1980 graduate of North Chicago High, started his football career as a wide receiver. A pro career in the early 1980s included stops catching passes in Calgary in the Canadian Football League, and in the NFL at Denver and Cincinnati, snaring throws of Boomer Esiason. Wade, a former Iowa State University Cyclone, returned to the NFL for the three-game strike season in 1983.

Wade's dramatic interception came when the Express was trailing 16-7 but driving. Express QB Grossochme lofted a pass in the corner of the end zone at Mundelein

High School. Wade leaped, catching the throw and taking it away from Eric Griffith, who had been one of Milwaukee's pass-catching threats.

Wade ran it back to the Milwaukee 35, a 65-yard return. "I got a little winded," Wade said.

For the benefit of future Vikings opponents, starting with the Palos Force Sept. 15, Wade is No. 21 and Keener is No. 91. The game at Carl Sandburg High begins at 7 p.m.

Seeking blockers

Lake County Vikings running back Dave Shaw bursts through a hole in the defense of Milwaukee Express. Vikings won their fourth straight Midwest Football League game 16-7. Game was played at Mundelein High School. Vikings battle the Palos Force Sept. 15. Photo by Steve Peterson.

Wade and Keener are not the only former Warhawks on the Vikings roster. Eric Glover is also a linebacker, Rodney Coleman is a wide receiver and Elmer Smith is a quarterback.

Offensively, the game marked the debut of quarterback Walter Tesch. Tesch, whose younger brother is on the Round Lake High football team, started in place of Sam Toia, who returned to his chores as offensive coordinator.

"I'll give him a B minus. We spent two days in practice juggling people around on offense. I'm sticking with him," Vikings Coach Al Clark said of Tesch.

The Vikings started the game with good field position, as they had the ball inside Milwaukee territory the first three times.

The first chance, they had to settle for a 38-yard field goal by Chris Fridrick.

In the second quarter, Tesch capped a drive off with a four-yard touchdown run. The special teams scored the next TD as Alan Ploch ran back a blocked field goal try.

The Vikings defense, in addition to the three interceptions by Wade, was opportunistic when it came to Milwaukee miscues.

Milwaukee prevented another shutout by Lake County when Earl Anderson stepped in between two Lake County receivers to pick off a Tesch pass late in the third quarter. He ran it back 44 yards and an extra point made it 16-7.

Vikings notebook: it was Scout day at MHS as Scouts in uniform were allowed in at no cost...Vikings owner Rick Starosta would like to thank Dir. of Finance at MHS John Schockmel for the use of the facilities. The Vikings also played the Express at MHS last year, but were 3-0 losers.

Jones happy to return home after swim mishap

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

"Welcome Home Tracy," the sign reads at the Jones residence of Round Lake.

For Tracy Jones, age 16, enjoyed a

Tracy Jones

Homecoming which may be described as miraculous after a swimming accident 10 days earlier. Jones was expected to be back in classes this week.

Jones, a Round Lake Senior High School football player, was flown via helicopter to Milwaukee following the Aug. 31 incident.

"The doctors said in 90 percent of the cases such as Tracy's, there is paralysis," Maude Jones, Tracy's mom, said.

But because of a successful operation which involved moving a bone from the hip area to the neck, Jones will not be paralyzed, although much of his body remains in a cast.

Jones received an uplifting visit from the Round Lake football team on Labor Day.

"Before he was so depressed but we were telling him how blessed he was. It was a total uplifting for him on that day - he was on cloud nine," Mrs. Jones said.

Jones, a junior, had planned to contribute to the Panthers as a fullback and defensive noseguard this fall. He also played guard for the sophomore basketball team last winter.

"I think his recovery is very rare. He had been a very hard worker. Panther blood runs deep," Round Lake football Coach Mike Dunn said.

The Panthers went on to rip Riverside-Brookfield 42-18 at home Friday for their first win of the season.

CLC spikers start fast

College of Lake County's women's volleyball team gave new Coach Sue Garcia a surprise Saturday.

The Lancers ventured to Freeport for the Highland Invitational and not only were respectable in the season opener but came home with the championship. CLC went 4-0 in the round-robin format.

"I didn't expect to come out 4-0. Things went our way," Garcia said.

The Lancers opened the tournament with a 15-12, 15-2 win over Waubesa. Then CLC topped McHenry in a three-game match 5-15, 15-13, 15-12. The Lancers downed host Highland 15-10, 15-2 and wrapped up the day with a 15-5, 15-10 win over Madison Tech.

The match against the Scots featured a new wrinkle in junior college volleyball this year. Instead of the usual best-of-five series, the teams play a third game with a format of a rally game. "You get points on serves and mistakes of your opponents. It is kind of like sudden death," Garcia said.

Garcia is taking over the CLC Volleyball program from Diane VanderKooy, who coached the team for two seasons. Garcia, the school's softball coach, coached volleyball at Carl Sandburg school in Mundelein.

The team has only three sophomores and is bigger than recent CLC teams, as the roster includes 12 players from 11 different high schools. Back from last year's squad are setter-outside hitter Jessica Elsner from Grayslake and setter-outside hitter Shannon Stanek from Libertyville.

Another setter is freshman Terra Chemko, a Fremd graduate.

"All three setters can hit as well and play back row, so we are using a 6-2 lineup," Garcia said.

The Lancers have a contingent of Grayslake freshmen on the squad. Sandra Padjen, a back row player, has "been a pleasant surprise," according to Garcia. Fellow former Rams are back row player Shannon Mulnix and Danika Erickson.

A sophomore on the squad is outside hitter Andre True.

CLC is at Rock Valley for an away non-conference match Sept. 17. The home opener is also the first Skyway Conference match against Elgin Sept. 20 at 5 p.m. in Grayslake. The match is one of four at home this fall for the Lancers.

Woodstock in a Northwest Suburban Conference showdown of pre-season favorites Sept. 14. Jones, who wore No. 19 last year for Round Lake, will not be donning the gold and blue again, but that does not mean he will not be cheering his teammates on.

"I will be going to every game," Jones vowed.

Scrambling

Lake County Vikings quarterback Walter Tesch scrambles for yards during Midwest Football League game against Milwaukee. Vikings won 16-7. Vikings, 4-0, battle the Palos Force Sept. 15.

RL set for showdown

Improvement on defense was what Round Lake Coach Mike Dunn was hoping to see when the Panthers hosted Riverside-Brookfield Sept. 7.

And that's just exactly what the Panthers delivered. After starting off slowly in a 28-20 loss to McHenry in week one, Round Lake's defense tightened the noose around Riverside-Brookfield with a 42-18 win.

"Last week we had four assists on defense, this week we had 26," Dunn said.

The next area of improvement for the Panthers will be the kicking game for the Marian Central contest in Woodstock Sept. 14. Game time is 7:30 p.m. for the contest between the two teams which split non-conference tilts.

Dunn said highly touted Riverside-Brookfield quarterback Dan Curtin felt the pressure all night. Curtin was 27-for-44 in passing. Brian Smith and Aric Rodriguez led the way. "We went after him," Dunn said. Dunn had high praise for the Round Lake secondary, noting the play of Garrett Horn, Chris Collis, Tom Menkalis and Jim Laubinger.

Offensively, the Panthers put on a show. The game had been dedicated to Tracy Jones, a junior who had suffered a season-ending injury in a swimming accident.

Rodriguez scored three touchdowns, on 34-, 14- and 15-yard runs, and Laubinger and Horn also added touchdowns.

Rodriguez was the leading ground gainer on the night with 150 yards in 12 carries. Bragg had 75 yards in 10 tries and Horn had 74 yards in nine carries.

Wauconda, JHS aiming for loop contender status

Two upstarts will be trying to prove their comebacks are for real when Wauconda hosts Johnsbury in a Northwest Suburban Conference opener for both teams Sept. 14.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

"We've very excited. Our whole program is 5-1. We feel good but we have not faced adversity yet," Wauconda Coach Bob Kasper said.

The Bulldogs registered their second straight win with a 23-8 triumph over Jacobs in Algonquin last week. Johnsbury, which upset Richmond-Burton 20-14 in the first week, was edged by Harvard 14-9 for a 1-1 record.

"Their juniors have are 19-1 now and and knows what it success feels like," Kasper said.

The Bulldogs will be trying to stop the quarterbacking of Matt Chrisman. Johnsbury was in the game against Harvard right up until the end at Dan Home Field.

Wauconda has been able to use its run-and-shoot offense to put opponents behind the eight ball in the first two contests. But Johnsbury has a larger squad and has a size advantage, according to Kasper.

"We've been a big play oriented team. The run-and-shoot offense spreads the defense out," Kasper said.

Wauconda quarterback Todd Schmidt started the night with a 54-yard pass to John Sanew for a 6-0 lead in the first quarter.

Wauconda did have a long drive on a Jacobs team which has not won a game in four years. Scott Cajda, who had 71 yards in 14 tries, carried the ball from the one for a 13-0 lead at halftime for the visitors.

Kasper, in his first year at Wauconda, had high praise for the effort turned in by the defense.

FATHER forgive them

Jesus Christ's last intercessory plea, to our Creator Father, was for those who killed Him. We pray today for those who are killing unborn children: for they know not what they are doing.

Prayer is our direct link to God and he expects us to use it. As Christians we know that our prayers are heard and if in accordance with God's will, answered. Let us all take the time to pray, not only for the unborn in danger, but also for all who play a part in taking human life, whether by abortion, infanticide or euthanasia.

According to medical science human life begins at conception. To terminate, by abortion, the life of an unborn human being constitutes murder. In America, there are professional men and women performing abortifacient death services by the thousands... daily. They justify their murdering actions by denying the humanity of these boys and girls yet to be born.

As Christians we love these doctors, nurses, medical technicians and their staffs. We pray that their angels will help them to know that what they are doing is wrong in the eyes of God, and that they will be judged.

The greatest gift (according to Holy Scripture, and our hearts) is love. Love transcends to the womb, and we pity the waiting babes. We pray the waiting mothers will be filled by God's love, and have mercy. Amen.

AN UNBORN CHILD IS A TERRIBLE THING TO WASTE!

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: Can Extreme Nearsightedness be corrected?

ANSWER: The ability to treat or correct nearsightedness depends upon the cause and severity of the condition.

Nearsightedness means the eyeballs are elongated preventing light rays from focusing properly on the retina. For most people this elongation ceases at a certain point and their vision can be corrected through surgery or with glasses or contact lenses.

For some people, the elongation never stops. The eye slowly becomes more and more severely nearsighted and will eventually become blind.

In these cases, an ophthalmologist might recommend stopping the elongation process through a surgical procedure known as scleral reinforcement.

During this surgery, a strip taken from the white part (sclera) of a donated eye is wrapped around the patient's eye to reinforce it, preventing the eye from continuing to elongate.

While this procedure has proven effective in stopping the deterioration of vision it should not be expected to correct a person's eyesight.

Carmel spikers notch victory over Wildcats

Carmel High School's volleyball team has opened the 1990 season with mixed results.

The Corsairs have split four matches, picking up their second win in a 15-13, 15-6 win over Libertyville Saturday. Carmel, which battled St. Viator Sept. 13, also defeated Grayslake in the season opener, 17-15, 16-14.

In the Libertyville match, Carolyn

Curley was 14-for-15 with 11 points and three aces in serving. Jamie Langer was 20-for-23 in setting with six assists and Jenny Kolacz was 20 for 20 with four aces.

In the attack, Sarah Smith was 13-for-13 with six kills, Bridgete O'Rourke was eight for nine with four kills and Shannon McEllin was six for seven with two kills.

"A lot of girls were hitting the ball," Carmel Coach Jo Girardi said.

Sequoits aim for comeback

Two teams coming off conference losses will be featured when Antioch travels to Stevenson Sept. 14.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Sequoits are coming off a 14-6 loss to Lake Forest but Coach Del Pechauer said he saw improvement.

Starting quarterback Dan Pappadakis sulked an injured back in the fourth quarter and junior Josh Miller took over.

Miller completed a nine-yard pass to Aaron Martin for Antioch's score.

"They were one of the pre-season favorites, so they could be upset after they lost to North Chicago (38-6)," Pechauer said of Stevenson.

Pappadakis, who is expected to play Friday, was 17-for-24 for 143 yards in passing. Miller was four-for-nine for 33 yards.

Corsairs prepare for ESCC foe

A new era in East Suburban Catholic Conference football will begin Sept. 15.

And Carmel High School will be a part of it.

For it is the Corsairs who have the task of being the first ESCC school to travel to Lisle and take on Benet Academy, one of the two new schools in the league this year. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

"This is their first conference game so they will be sky high," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

On Friday, it was the Carmel offense which was reaching new heights in a 41-22 romping over Woodstock. The Corsairs were looking for a strong four quarters of offense after a second-half rally against Gordon Tech had fallen short in the season opener.

"I think the level of intensity is the thing the kids worked hard on,"

Fitzgibbons said.

Quarterback Todd Stachle directed the Corsairs on a 70 yard drive in the first quarter, scoring from the one. He did the same in the second quarter.

The third quarter was the Jerry Foster Show. Foster, a 5-9, 170 pound senior, scored on runs of two and 67 yards as Carmel built the lead. Foster finished with 158 yards in 15 carries. "He played very well" Fitzgibbons said.

Calling the play

Libertyville quarterback John Garwal calls a play during North Suburban Conference game against Antioch. Wildcats started season with 13-7 win then beat Mundelein. Two 2-0 teams will clash at Libertyville Sept. 14 when the Wildcats host Zion-Benton. Antioch, 0-2, is at Lake Forest. Both NSC league games begin at 2 p.m.

Intra-hospital task force to eliminate smoking

Hospitals in Lake and McHenry counties have joined together to create a unified stance against smoking, according to

Sister Christine Bowman, OSF, administrative assistant at Saint Therese Medical Center and chairperson of the Clean Air

Task Force.

"Our goal is to eventually establish smoke-free environments at all of the hospitals," said Bowman. "We have the support of nine area hospitals, as well as the Lake County Medical Society and the Lake County Health Dept."

Bowman notes that the trend of hospitals turning smoke-free is already well underway in the Chicagoland area. She cited a June 1988 "Physicians Weekly" report that stated that 560 hospitals throughout Chicago are "no smoking" hospitals.

Each of the area hospitals have already discouraged smoking," said Bowman. "What we wish to establish is a more unified policy."

Each of the hospitals have a phased plan for elimination of smoking on their campuses. This usually consists of a designated area for smokers with restrictions throughout the rest of the facility. Patients are allowed to smoke with a doctor's order, but for the majority of the task force hospitals, this is discouraged.

"Having a hospital eventually be smoke-free is a logical goal that is difficult to implement," said Bowman. "For example, in addition to the sensitivity of a patient's rights, there are the rights of the employees to consider, the backlash from the smoking public and the practical ways of enforcing a smoke-free policy."

The task force was created partly to discuss the problems that have been encountered by each facility.

"It was agreed by the task force that communication would be the key to successful implementation of a uniform non-smoking policy," said Bowman. "At this point, some hospitals are further ahead in their policies than others. We plan to consult again in October and discuss the progress each hospital has made in establishing a non-smoking environment."

The task force was created by Saint Therese Medical Center, who invited representatives from area hospitals to begin dialogue about each hospital's policies on smoking. Bowman notes that Saint Therese took action after acting upon a letter from the Lake County Medical Society and Steven R. Patsic, M.D., M.P.H., executive director of the Lake County Health Dept. Patsic warned about the hazards of cigarette smoking and urged that area hospitals take a leadership role in establishing a unified non-smoking policy.

"It is important that Lake County hospitals and other major health care providers acknowledge cigarette smoke as the number one preventive public health hazard in our nation," said Patsic.

BUNIONS

Bunions are a progressive deformity, that begins with a mild bump at the base of the big toe. If left untreated the big toe deviates outward and destructive arthritic changes occur. If treated early, surgery may not be needed. If surgery is indicated it is not a disabling procedure. I utilize the Swiss Compression technique which prevents cast wear and the patient may walk that same day. Other advantages to this procedure are that surgery is performed on an outpatient basis and little or no time is missed from work.

Sign-ups set for Cost Share Program

Lake County landowners may apply for state cost-share funds to install permanent soil and water conservation practices on their property. According to Doris Weidner, chairwoman of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD), "The dist. has received a limited amount of funding available to landowners wishing to establish enduring conservation programs on their lands".

Under the program guidelines landowners are eligible to receive up to 75 percent of the cost of permanent soil and water conservation practices installed on their land. The eligible practices are primarily aimed at reducing sheet and till erosion on agricultural lands which are experiencing excessive soil losses, although, this does not preclude cost-sharing on urban soil erosion problems if eligibility requirements are met. Lake County has been allocated $12,500 for Fiscal Year 1991 by the State Dept. of Natural Resources. The program is administered by the Illinois Dept. of Agriculture and local Soil and Water Conservation Dist.

According to Weidner, "The basic requirements of the cost-share program include: owning/operating land which is experiencing soil losses greater than 'T' or tolerable levels as determined by the Universal Soil Loss Equation; qualifying for an eligible practice as determined by the Dist. Board; having an approved SWCD Conservation Plan for your property; and signing a contract which includes a 10-year maintenance provision for the practice installed."

Weidner also noted "the state cost-share program is not intended to resolve all soil erosion problems occurring throughout the county. The limited funding makes it necessary for the state and local SWCD's to develop an eligible practice list based on obtaining the most cost effective methods of addressing soil erosion."

Additional information and forms are available from the Soil and Water Conservation Dist, 70 S Rte. 45, Grayslake, IL 60030.

CHILDRENS FOOT PROBLEMS

Pediatric foot problems can appear very early. They require attention because the bones in a child's foot are soft and pliable and easily damaged by constricting socks, shoes and even bedding. Shoes that fit are especially important for a young child's rapidly growing feet.

Parents have to be on the alert for early developmental problems, since children do not usually complain about them. If you notice that your child is toeing in or out excessively, has a flat foot or is walking or standing strangely, stumbling or tiring easily, you should consult your podiatrist.

If you are suffering from this condition, or have any further questions, contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a NO COST CONSULTATION to discuss your treatment options.

Seek more staff

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago City Council members heard requests for more personnel from the city's fire and police chiefs Monday. Fire Chief Robert Leben and Police Chief Ernest Fisher both asked for more staffing. Leben also reported on the opening of the new fire station on the west side of the city. "It should be open within a month," Leben said. However, more personnel will be needed to man the station. Leben suggested hiring three new people at a time to add nine to the department staff over 18 months. Now the department operates on four-men shifts.

Coalition meeting

LAKE COUNTY—The Lake County Coalition for the Homeless will hold their next meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 26 at 1 p.m. The meeting will be held at Catholic Charities, 1 N. Genesee St., Waukegan, and will feature a panel of representatives from local agencies and private industry, who will discuss employment and education opportunities for the homeless in Lake County. All persons interested in assisting the homeless in Lake County are encouraged to attend. For further information contact Arlene Falotico at (708) 662-6925

Drug fight

FOX LAKE—A year-long drug and substance abuse awareness program has been launched with the goal of winning a 1991 Illinois Governor's Hometown Award, announced Judy Prasil, coordinator of Choices, sponsored by the police dept. First big event will be Red Ribbon Week to be conducted in October in conjunction with the high school homecoming. A total of 2,500 rulers carrying the inscription "Rule Out Drugs" will be distributed to students. Students at community schools will tie a giant red ribbon around their school to "express unity," Prasil announced.

Partington to speak

GREAT LAKES—The September meeting of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce will feature the new commander at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Rear Admiral James W. Partington will address Chamber members on Thursday, Sept. 20, who will gather at the Rathskeller Restaurant, located at Chicago Medical Center. The luncheon will begin at noon. Reservations are due by Sept. 15 to Roycelee Wood, Chamber vice-president, 200 N. Lewis Ave., North Chicago.

Garbage gripes rise

LIBERTYVILLE—Telephones are ringing off the hook at the village hall. They are from people complaining about the quality and cost of garbage pickup service. Now, with fall leaf pickup costs added in, people are more angry. The village board will consider a plan to eliminate the monthly charge with a sticker system allowing residents to deposit bags of leaves free at a central location.

Fire levy hike

LAKE VILLA—Property owners living in the Lake Villa Fire Protection Dist. will be seeing a 12.3 percent raise in the fire protection district's levy. The extended 1989 taxes were $620,133. The levy approved for 1990 is $696,675. According to Fire Protection Dist. Trustee Karen Rydberg, the board held a public hearing on Monday because of the intent to increase the levy more than 105 percent. The board voted 2-1 for the levy increase, with Trustee Sandra Churchill dissenting and Rydberg and Trustee Thomas Gawil giving the increase thumbs up. The biggest increase in the fire protection budget comes from the increase in the contracts of both the Lake Villa Fire Dept. and the Lake Villa Rescue Squad with whom the fire protection district contracts.

OK move

GAGES LAKE—After split votes, the Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education voted to have 7th and 8th grade students attend school at Waukegan East High School for the 1991-92 school year. The board voted 4-3 to instruct Supt. Marlin Meyer to enter into final negotiations with Waukegan Dist. 60 regarding rental fees.

Witnesses canvass

MUNDELEIN—The Libertyville congregation of the Jehovah's Witnesses has won almost year-around approval to canvass the village. Although village ordinance limits door-to-door calls to seven days for any organization, the church cited U.S. Supreme Court case law and hinted it would press the issue. The village board this week granted a second 60-day period in September and October for church members to make their rounds.

Park metering

ROUND LAKE PARK—As part of their effort to prepare for receiving Lake Michigan Water, the Village of Round Lake Park is installing new water meters throughout the village. The new meters will cost residents $200.04 apiece, and approximately 900 to 1,175 homes will be metered during the year-long program.

Action Line by fred bigham

Dear Action Line,

A few days ago I had a party which lasted a lot longer than I estimated. (a LOT longer). Four of my guests got police tickets for parking overnight. I have no argument over the tickets, but how can I ever have a party in the future if I have to worry over my guests getting tickets.

Bob from Libertyville

Dear Bob,

You can't do this all the time, but if you check with the Police Dept., you can get permission for overnight parking as long as you don't do it too often. This also lets them know why all the cars are there so they can keep an eye on them. Most Police Chief's would take a few days notice.
